O Konjicu

Konjic je grad i središte istoimene općine na krajnjem sjeveru planinske Hercegovine, u centralnom dijelu Bosne i Hercegovine. Grad je 1991. brojao oko 14.500, a općina blizu 45.000 stanovnika. Općinu Konjic karakteriše površina od 1400 km², po kojoj je najveća u Federaciji Bosne i Hercegovine. Bogatstvo općine su poljoprivredno i šumsko zemljište, ogromni vodeni potencijal, velike zalihe rude pirofilita, turistički kapaciteti i dr.

Konjic je atraktivan zbog bogate prirode koja u potpunosti okružuje grad. Rijeka Neretva teče kroz sam centar. Stari grad je veoma lijep za šetnju, kao i centar grada iz kojeg se u svakom pravcu pruža interesantan vidik na okolnu prirodu.

Dok ste u Konjicu, obavezno prošećite obnovljenom Kamenom čuprijom, sagrađenom 1682.g. Od početka 1900.

godine Konjic je poznat po svom drvorezbarstvu.

Središte turističke ponude Konjica je zasigurno Boračko jezero i dolina Glavatićevo. Većina aktivnosti u prirodi kreće odavde: planinarenje, logorovanje, rafting, seoski turizam, vožnja kajakom ili kanoom, planinski biciklizam pa čak i paragliding.

Najsjeverniji grad Hercegovine nikad nije bio ni „prava Hercegovina“ niti „prava Bosna“, već nešto zaista unikatno i neponovljivo.

Okupan toplim hercegovačkim suncem dočekivao je doseljenike iz raznih krajeva svijeta, pružao im udoban dom i pazio ih, hranio ih i školovao, a oni su mu vraćali svom ljubavlju koju bi utkali u gradevine i gradske ulice.

About Konjic

Konjic is a town and center of similar commune on extreme north mountainous Herzegovina, at the central part of BiH. 14.500 inhabitants were live in Konjic in 1991., and in its similar commune at the same time was about 45.000. Konjic was placed on 1400 km², and at the same time is the biggest commune in BiH. Agricultural and forestry land, huge water potential, great reserves of mineral of pirofilit are the main titles of huge richness of this part of BiH. Konjic is attractive far more by its abundance of natural beauty that completely surrounds the town. The Neretva River running through the centre. The old town is quite nice to stroll through. The center of town is rather pleasant too, with stunning views in every direction. People in Konjic are very easy going and friendly so feel free to ask someone for directions or to engage in some small talk. One of the not-to-be-missed attractions is certainly Kamena cuprija (Stone Bridge) built in 1682. Since the early 1900s, Konjic has come to be known for its woodcarvers. The epicenter of the Konjic tourism offer is most certainly the area around Boracko Lake and the valley of Glavicevo. This partial glacier lake has bungalows, a hotel and camping facilities. Most of the outdoor activities begin from this region: hiking, camping, rafting, kayaking, village tourism, canoeing, mountain biking and even paragliding. The northernmost town of Herzegovina has never been either „true Herzegovina“ or „true Bosnia“, but something unique and genuine. Showered with warm Herzegovinian sun it welcomed settlers from all around the world, gave them nice home, took care of them, fed them and educated them and they in return gave it their love – they would install in all the buildings and streets they created.

Legenda o Konjicu

U prastara vremena, dok su još sveci obilazili ovaj svijet, bio je, na mjestu gdje je danas Boračko jezero, gradić kojem, nažalost, više niko ne zna imena. Stanovnici su u tom gradiću bili blagoslovljeni svakim blagom zemaljskim, ali su bili pokvarena srca i tako škrti da nisu više pazili na gostoprимstvo ni na iskrenu ljubav. Ti su ih grijesi i upropastili. Po božjoj mudroj odluci dođe jednom u taj grad neki svetac i zamoli za noćište. Porugljivo ga bogataši otjeraju i niko mu ne htjede molbu uslišiti. Kad se nakucao na svim vratima, dođe na kraju grada do kolibe jedne sirotice.

Bila je to siromašna udovica, koja nije osim svoje kućice, baščice, krave i konja ništa drugoga imala, nego sina jedinca, momka u najljepšoj dobi. Majka i sin bili su Bogu odani, pobožni i milostiva srca. Siromaha putnika prime gostoljubivo, podijele s njim svoje siromaško jelo i daju mu noćište. Sutradan ujutro, kada se svetac spremao na put, rekne materi i sinu: „Božjom cu pomoći da kaznim ovaj grad zbog grijeha njegovog žiteljstva. Pokupite što imate i otiđite iz ovog mjesta, što je prokletio da propadne. Idite sjeverno-zapadno, pa kada dođete do rijeke, idite sve uz nju. Tamo gdje vam konj prednjim desnim kopitom triput udari u zemlju, na tom se mjestu nastanite; Bog će vas tamo blagosloviti. Mati i sin tako učiniše. Časom su bili daleko od grada, dok putnik ostade kod njihove kolibe. Kada se posljednji put obazru na svoju domaju, upropaste se od straha. Uz jauk i zapomaganje stanovništvo propade pred njihovim očima grad u zemlju, a iz nebrojenih vrela navre jezero i ispuni tu novu kotlinu. U isti mah im nestade sveca s vida. Tako je nastalo Boračko jezero. Mati i sin pođu dalje sve uz rijeku Neretvu, kako im je svetac rekao.

Iza nekoliko sati iznenada im konj zastade. Udovica ga potjera riječima: „Hajde, hajde, moj konjicu!“, no konj ni da bi se makao s mjesta. Odjednom udari desnim prednjim kopitom triput u zemlju. Sada vide mati i sin da su došli na ono mjesto što im je svetac označio. Tamo si sagrade kolibu, a malo zatim oženi mati sina. Iz dana su u dan napredovali, jer božiji je bagoslov pratio porodicu i brzo tu nastane lijepo mjesto: „KONJIC“.

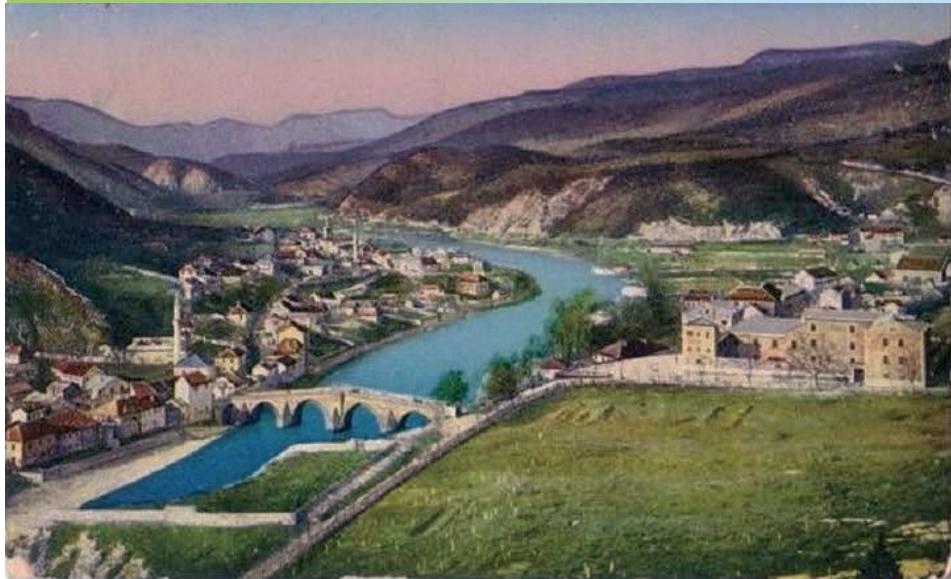

Legend about Konjic

In ancient times, while there were still saints in this world, there was a small town-at the place of today's Boračko Lake . Unfortunately, no one longer remembers its name. Residents of the town were blessed with every earthly treasure, but they were corrupted and so stingy that they neglected the importance of hospitality or the true love. Those were the sins that ruined them. Once, by God's wise decision a patron saint arrived to the city and asked to spend the night there. He was mocked and driven away by the rich and there was no one to grant his request. After knocking at every door, he reached the cottage of a poor lady at the very end of the town. It was a poor widow, with nothing but her home, garden, a cow and a horse and her only son, a boy in the most beautiful age. Mother and son were loyal to God, pious and gracious hearted. Poor passenger was wellcomed with hospitality, they shared their poor food with him and gave him a place to stay. The following morning, while preparing for his trip, the saint said to mother and son: "With God's help I will punish this city for the sins of his inhabitants. Bring everything you have with you and leave this place, which is damned to fail. Go north-west, and when you reach the river, go along. When your horse hits the ground three times with his front right hoof, settle down in that place, God will bless you there. Mother and son did so. Soon, they were far from the city, leaving the passanger by their cottage. When they looked back to see their village, they were horrified . They heard the weeping and screaming of their villagers and their small town was falling into the ground before them; and numerous springs formed a lake which filled a new valley with water. At that moment the saint just dissappeared. That is story of how the Boračko lake appeared. Mother and son went on all along the river, as the saint told them. A few hours later their horse suddenly stopped. Widow chased him saying: "Go, Go, my horsey (Konjic)", but horse just wouldn't move from that place. Suddenly, the horse hit the ground with his front right hoof three times. Then, mother and son realized that was the place saint was telling about. They built their cottage there, and the son soon married. The days were passing, they were progressing because they had god's blessing, and soon it was a nice place for living: "KONJIC".

Konjic kroz historiju

Na teritoriji općine Konjic nalazi se oko 4,160 stećaka (srednjovjekovnih nadgrobnih spomenika), što je čini jednom od općina sa najbogatijom historijom i kulturnim naslijeđem. Sačuvani zapisi kazuju kako je područje kontinuirano naseljeno više od 4000 godina. Grad se prvi put spominje još u IV stoljeću p.n.e., a u II stoljeću p.n.e. poznat je kao "Slana kolonija" koja je održavala trgovačku vezu sa gradom Apolonijom, u današnjoj Albaniji. Prvi poznati stanovnici ovog kraja su plemena Ilira. Naselje Neretva na tlu današnjeg grada se prvi put spominje u pisanim dokumentima iz 1356. godine.

Naziv Konjic se po prvi put navodi u spisima Dubrovačkog arhiva, gdje se pominje trgovačka karavana koja je preko konjica putovala u Dubrovnik. U starogradskom jezgru i okolini nalaze se brojni spomenici kulture. Hram i kip boga Mitrasa, pronađeni u ovom gradu 1897. godine, jedinstveni su u historiji svjetskog mitraizma, a po broju stećaka općina Konjic je prva u Regiji.

Jedan od stećaka bio je na svjetskoj izložbi u Montrealu, a srednjovjekovna sudačka stolica na izložbi u Parizu. Pored Starog mosta u gradu se nalazi turbe jednog od sedmorice sinova Smail-age Čengića.

Konjic through history

On the territory of Konjic municipality there are about 4,160 medieval tombstones, which ranks it among municipalities richest with history and cultural heritage. Preserved records show that the area has been continuously inhabited for more than 4000 years. Town is first mentioned in IV century BC, and from II century BC it is known as the "Salt Colony" that maintained a commercial relationship with the city of Apollonia, in today Albania. First known inhabitants of the region were Illyrian tribes. Settlement named Neretva, on the location of today's town, is first mentioned in a written document from 1356.

Konjic is for the first time cited in documents of the Dubrovnik archive, which mentions a trade caravan traveling through Konjic to Dubrovnik. In the old town and its surroundings there are numerous monuments. Temple and statue of the god Mithras, found in this town in 1897, are unique in the history of the world Mithraism. By the number of Bosnian medieval tombstones Konjic municipality is the first in the Regia. One of the tombstones was at the World Exhibition in Montreal, and medieval Judge's Chair at the exhibition in Paris. Close to the Old Bridge, there is the tomb of one of seven sons of Smail-aga Cengic.

Kamena čuprija

The Old Stone bridge

Iz „turskog vakta“ je i Kamena čuprija koja je mostila obale Neretve i stoljeća od 1682. godine, sve do 3. marta 1945., kada je u povlačenju ruše njemački vojnici. Bila je rijedak primjer klasične turske mostogradnje. Kamena čuprija je obnovljena 16.06.2009. godine. U programu otvaranja učestvovalo je više od 1.500 izvođača, koji su predstavili jednu razglednicu Konjica starog i današnjeg. Posebno efektni bili su nastupi turskog vojnog orkestra (Mehteran), najstarijeg takvog u svijetu i derviša iz turskog grada Konje.

Komisija za očuvanje nacionalnih spomenika Bosne i Hercegovine je u julu 2003. godine donijela odluku da se Historijska građevina-ostaci Kamene čuprije u Konjicu proglašavaju nacionalnim spomenikom Bosne i Hercegovine.

The Old Stone Bridge, as well from the Turkish period, connected the banks of Neretva river for centuries, since 1682. Until March 3rd 1945, when it was destroyed by retreating German troops. It was a rare example of classical Turkish Bridge building. The Old Stone Bridge was reconstructed 16.06.2009. More than 1,500 performers took part in the opening ceremony, where they provided a sketch of old and modern Konjic. Outstanding shows were presented by the Turkish military band (Mehteran), the oldest of that kind in the world, as well as the Turkish whirling dervishes of Konya.

Commission to Preserve National Monuments of Bosnia and Herzegovina decided in July 2003 to place Historical site – remains of the Old Stone Bridge on a list of National monuments of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Stećci

The tombstones

Stećak je vrsta kamenog nadgrobног споменика. Ови споменици nastali su u srednjem vijeku i oslikavaju tadašnji život. Obično su ukrašeni prizorima iz svakodnevnog života, lova, viteških turnira ili natpisima na bosanskoj cirilici (bosančici). Stećci su se postavljali od druge polovice XIV stoljeća do sredine XVI stoljeća. Dijele se na položene (sanduci, ploče i sljemenjaci), koji su u većini, i uspravne (stubovi, stele i krstače). U BiH zabilježeno je oko 60,000 stećaka. Od ukupnog broja stećaka na području općine Konjic zabilježeno je oko 4,160 stećka. Ukrasavanje stećaka uzima maha tek početkom XIV ili krajem XV stoljeća. Na bliže oblikovanje stećaka svakako su utjecali i terenski uslovi, odnosno geološki sastav stijena iz kojih je uziman kamen za izradu stećaka. Natpisi imaju posebnu vrijednost na stećcima. Stećci, bosanski nadgrobni spomenici, najsnažnija su kulturna i umjetnička pojавa srednjevjekovne Bosne, biljeg su jednog vremena i prostora.

Stećak is a type of tombstone. These monuments were built in Middle Ages and they show a way of life of that period. They are usually decorated with scenes of daily life, hunting, knight tournaments or inscriptions written in Bosnian style Cyrillic (Bosančica). They were created in the period from the second half of XIV until mid-XVI century. There are two types of tombstones: laid (trunks, panels and sarcophagi), and vertical (poles, stone crosses). In BiH there are about 60,000 tombstones. Out of total number in municipality Konjic is located about 4,160 tombstones. Tombstone decoration becomes more popular in early XIV or late XV century. Decoration style definitely depended on terrain, as well as geological structure of stone used for tombstones. Inscriptions on tombstones are of special value. Bosnian tombstones are the most powerful cultural and artistic phenomena of medieval Bosnia, marking that period and the area.

Partizansko groblje

Partisan cemetery

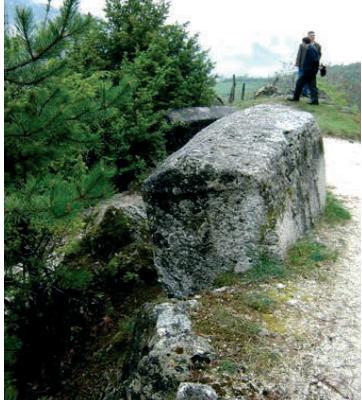

Jedino otvoreno molitveno mjesto - Musalla - u gradu je podigao Mevlana Lutfi-hodža, sin Alije. Nema podataka o tome kada je ovo molitveno mjesto podignuto, ali se na osnovu navoda u vakufnami Mehmed-bega, koji su posvećeni ovoj bogomolji, može utvrditi da je to bilo prije 1579. godine, odnosno između 1574. i 1579. godine. Locirana je na jednom od najljepših mjesta - vidika u gradu, iznad same Neretve, preko puta gradskog groblja koje je formirano 1882. godine. Ne postoje podaci o eventualnim obnovama ovog molitvenog mjesta, ali se danas čitav taj predio iznad Neretve naziva Musalla. Poslije II svjetskog rata na tom lokalitetu formirano je Partizansko groblje sa spomen kosturnicom 320 boraca poginulih za oslobođenje Konjica. Obzirom da je bilo prilično devastirano od ratnih dejstava u periodu 1992 - 1995. godine, u 2002. godini je temeljito obnovljeno zahvaljujući donaciji privatnog poduzetnika Sarić Edina.

The only outdoor place of prayer in the town – Musalla – has been built by Mevlana Lutfi-hodža, son of Ali. There is no information about the exact time when it was built, but based on some lines in Mehmed-bey's waqfname about this prayer-site, we can conclude that it was built before 1579, or more precisely 1574-1579. It is located at one of the most beautiful sites – lookouts in the town, just above river Neretva, across town cemetery that was formed in 1882. There is no information on eventual renovations of this prayer-site, but the whole area above river Neretva is today known as Musalla. After World War Two location was used for Partisan cemetery with memorial ossuary of 320 soldiers that were killed in the operations of town liberation. Since it was much devastated during 1992-1995 war, in 2002. It was fully reconstructed thanks to private donation by local entrepreneur Edin Saric.

Kaursko groblje

Cemetery Kaursko

Selo Borci, udaljeno je dvadesetak kilometara jugoistočno od Konjica. Nekropola sa 121 nadgrobnim spomenikom smještena je na malom uzvišenju uz sami put. Arheološki nalazi iz starijeg i mlađeg željeznog doba svjedoče da je područje Boraka bilo naseljeno već od preistorije. Nekropola leži na površini od oko 1000m². Na nekropoli su većinom, osim dva sljemenjaka, zastupljeni stećci u obliku sanduka, ploča i prelaznog sanduka sa pločama. Ukrasi na 12 stećaka su urezani. Historijsko područje - Nekropolu stećaka na lokalitetu Kaursko groblje u Borcima je u martu 2006.godine Komisija za očuvanje nacionalnih spomenika Bosne i Hercegovine proglašila nacionalnim spomenikom BiH.

Borci village is located some 20 kilometres southeast of Konjic. The Necropolis with 121 tombstones is positioned on a small hill near the road. Archaeological findings from Early and Late Iron Age are the evidence that Borci area was inhabited since prehistoric times. Necropolis has area of 1000 m². It mostly consists (except for two sarcophagi) of tombstones shaped as trunks, panels and trunkpanel transitional phase. Ornaments are found engraved on 12 tombstones. Historical site - necropolis Kaurško (Infidel) Cemetery in Borci was in March 2006. designated by the Commission to Preserve National Monuments of Bosnia and Herzegovina as a National monument.

Drvorezbarstvo

Wood-carving

Prije austrougarske vladavine u Bosni i Hercegovini, vještinu drvorezbarstva u konjički kraj, odnosno gornji tok rijeke Neretve (od Bijele do Grušće) donijeli su doseljeni zemljoradnici – drvorezbari iz Hercegovine. Njihov centar bila su sela Grušća, Ribari, Čićevo i Bijela. Konjički drvorezbari su učestvovali i na međunarodnim izložbama. Prvi među njima je izlagao svoje proizvode Ilija Arapović na Milenijumskoj izložbi u Budimpešti 1896. godine. Također je učestvovao na izložbi u Beču 1898. godine gdje je za svoju seharu i peškun dobio medalju sa diplomom.

ARK

Atomic war command

Bunker - Atomska ratna komanda (vojni naziv "D-O"), nedaleko od Konjica, u unutrašnjosti brda, u podnožju planine Zlatar, podigla bivša JNA na površini od 6.500 m². Smješten na dubini od 280 metara ispod zemlje, bunker je sagrađen sa namjerom da, u slučaju (atomskog) rata, funkcioniše kao centar vojnih operacija (sklonište za Štab vrhovne komande) i sklonište za predsjednika Tita, njegovu porodicu i najbliže saradnike. Ovaj objekat, koji podsjeća na labyrin, sa više od stotinu prostorija i potpuno sačuvanim inventarom (sastoji se od brojnih rezidencijalnih prostora, sala za konferencije, kancelarija i "predsjedničkog bloka"), bio je predviđen da obezbijedi nesmetan život 350 ljudi tokom šest mjeseci. Do 90-ih godina izgradnja (koja je trajala od 1953.do 1979. i za koju je investirano 4,6 milijardi američkih dolara) i postojanje ovog bunkera bila je najstrože čuvana vojna tajna.

Bunker ARK - Nuclear War Headquarters (military name "D-O"), located near Konjic, inside a hill, right under Zlatar mountain, was built by JNA (Yugoslav People's Army) on 6,500 m² area. Located 280 meters underground bunker was built with aim to function, in case of (nuclear) war, as a Military Operations Center (Supreme Command Staff shelter) and a shelter for President Tito, his family and closest associates. This facility, that reminds of labyrinth, with more than hundred rooms and fully preserved inventory (that consists of numerous residential areas, conference rooms, offices and "presidential bloc"), was supposed to provide normal living conditions for 350 people for six months. Until 90's construction (which lasted 1953-1979, and for which 4,6 billion US dollars were invested) and the wary existance of this bunker were most strictly kept top military secret.

Santic villa

Poglavar Bosne i Hercegovine, barun Benko, je 1902. godine sagradio vilu na Borcima. Nakon deset godina, 1910. godine, je prodao vilu porodici Šantić iz Mostara. Već 1913. godine, poznati pjesnik Alekса Šantić se nastanio u ovoj vili. Poslije I svjetskog rata Alekса Šantić je prodao vilu Domu zdravlja Mostar. U II svjetskom ratu vila je služila kao partizanska bolnica. Neprijateljska vojska je u tim ratnim godinama zapalila vilu. Poslije II svjetskog rata Ministarstvo šuma BiH je obnovilo vilu za svoje potrebe i pretvorilo je u šumsko-lovačku kuću. Godine 1960. u Šantića vilu je uselio, zbog bolesti, i do smrti 1970. godine boravio akademski slikar Lazar Drljača koji je i sahranjen po sopstvenoj želji na proplanku, neposredno uz vilu. Objekat Vila Šantića je u ratu 1992-1995. godine stradao pri povlačenju vojske koja se tu nalazila, tako da su sada ostali samo kameni zidovi. Općina Konjic planira obnoviti vilu u narednom periodu. U martu 2006.godine Komisija za očuvanje nacionalnih spomenika Bosne i Hercegovine donijela je odluku da se mjesto i ostaci historijske građevine - Šantića vila na Borcima kod Konjica proglaši nacionalnim spomenikom Bosne i Hercegovine.

Land-governor of Bosnia and Herzegovina, baron Benko built this villa in 1902. near Borci village. Ten years after, in 1910. he sold it to Santic family from Mostar. Already in 1913., famous poet Alekса Šantić settled in. After the First World War Alekса Šantić sold villa to Health Institute Mostar. During World War Two villa was used as a partisan hospital. Enemy troops burned it during the war. After war ended Ministry of Forests of BiH reconstructed villa for its own use and turned it into forest hunting lodge. In 1960, due to his illnes academic painter Lazar Drljaca moved in, and lived there until his death in 1970. Upon his request he was buried next to villa. Santic Villa and its property were burned in 1992-1995 war by the retreating army, so the only part left are stone walls. Municipality of Konjic plans to reconstruct villa in upcoming period. In March 2006, Commission to Preserve National Monuments of Bosnia and Herzegovina has decided to put the location and remains of the historical building – Villa Santic in Borci, near Konjic, on a list of National monuments of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Tekijska džamija je jedina potkupolna džamija u Konjicu. Džamiju je sagradio Muhammed-Mehmed-Čauš, sin hadži Abdijin, koji je porijeklom iz Konjica. Prepostavlja se da je sagrađena 1579 godine, a u 1648/1649 ju je ponovo sagradio ili obnovio Mehmed-beg. „U harem u tekijskoje džamije će biti jedna kuhinja, drvarnica i tekija sa deset odjeljenja za siromahe i derviše. Tekija treba imati svoga starješinu (šeika)...“
